

CARVING CENTER Ban Nong Bueng Village

Nong Bueng village is a traditional wood carving village that has passed the skill from generation to generation. This traditional wood carving technique originated from the Ta Oi ethnic group, who lived in the highland areas of Southern Laos a long time ago. These special products are only created in Nong Bueng, but also sold in domestic and international markets. You can see their small and large products during your trip.

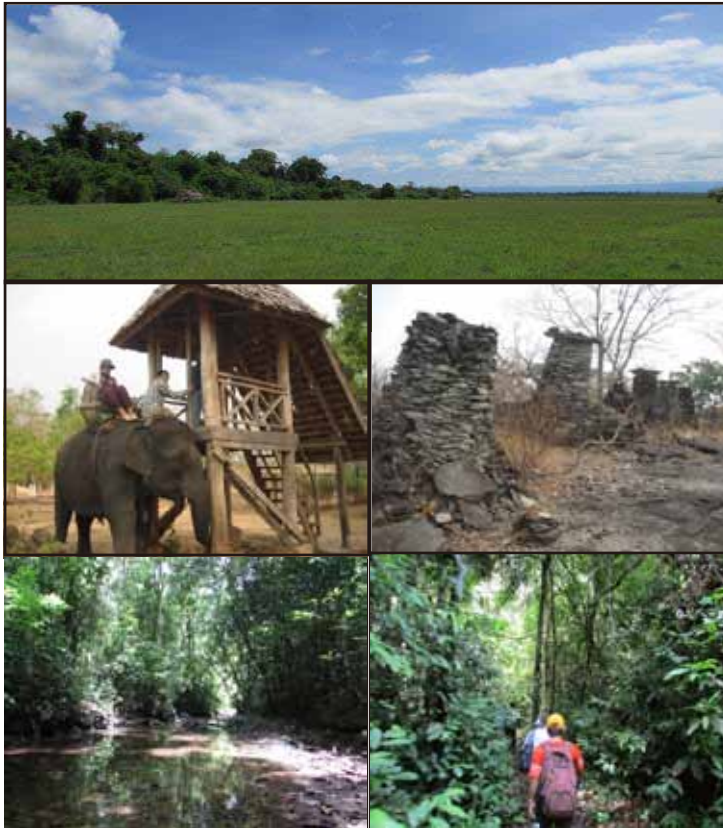

Access: Nong Bueng village is located in Pathoumphone District. The entrance to Nong Bueng is 43km from Pakse on Route No. 13 South. Local bus is available once a day from Southern Bus Station at KM8 in Pakse. More information is available at the Provincial Tourist Center in Pakse.
